Dear Dr. Huda,

we are happy to announce that your paper is now scheduled in iJIM, Vol. 15, No. 05, 2021 which will be published around 16 March 2021.

Your final version has been sent to the copy-editors – please don't send any other versions of your paper from now on, they cannot be taken into account.

Around 02 March 2021, you will receive an email from our copy-editor team with a camera-ready PDF proof of your paper (watch out for their email in that time and check your SPAM folder; the sender address will be oj.edfing@gmail.com, the alias is Online Journals). You will have 3 days to send it back with your comments about possible corrections.

If, after 3 days, our copy-editors don't hear from you, the proof is considered approved by you.

Please note that the content cannot be modified at this stage (this would need new submission and another review round) and that the formatting is the competence of our copy-editors. It's rather meant as a last chance for correcting typos, misspelled author names or make remarks about formatting that changes the comprehension of your content (which may happen occasionally despite the careful work of our copy-editors).
